

Reflexive AI

TEMPORARY WORKING DEFINITION

Human-Centered AI is:

“creating and using AI to help people perform their work in a more efficient way (faster and more accurately), while making sure that they remain in control, feel motivated, stay connected socially to their colleagues, and understand how AI affects them with autonomy to question, change, or reject its decisions”

Yes, this definition is incomplete, lacking and imperfect in many ways. This initiative aims to improve it collaboratively.